

“The Needed Here Phone App”

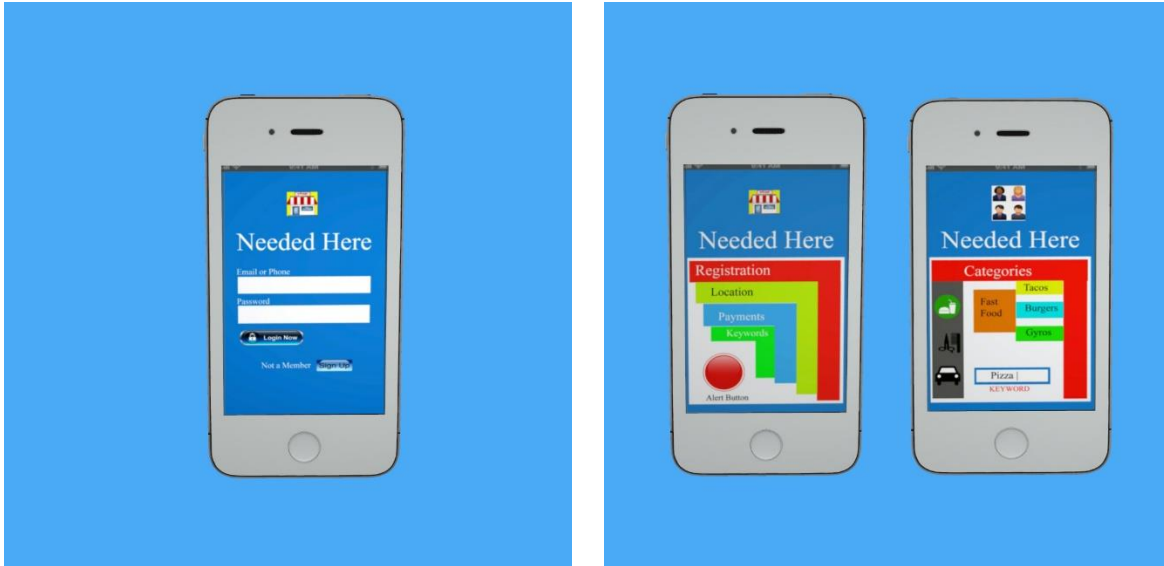

Needed Here is a unique phone App for Consumers and Business users Provide information for, and to access said information, in a database

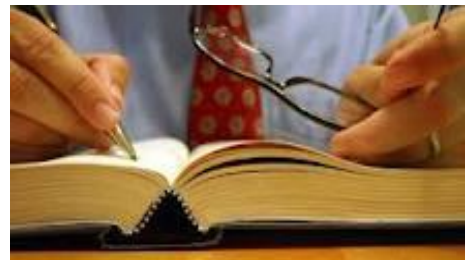

The Needed Here is a new type of mobile search app for both Consumers and Business users. The idea is to provide information for, and to access said information, in a database. It is as simple as going on the App, acquiring your location, and what you feel is needed in that area. Let say you live in the Las Vegas area and you were thinking of opening a Salon or Pet store. You can also go to the App and find out if there is any demand for that type of business in the specific search area before you consider your pursuit. What happens once you register your information on the app every company that has registered on this app will get instant notification.

This will allow people to do much quicker and easier research for specific types of stores and since it self-updates based on registered users then you will now if the business is current or not. Unlike maps on phones where you never know if the place still exists, or if you are getting accurate, new, information this app will give you exactly what you need every time.

With the Needed Here App you will never have to do guess work, and you can do all your searching in one place. When searching normally, to get the best results you typically want to cross reference anything you find on a Map App with Google and/or Yahoo search engines. Since this App is always updated by registered businesses it is always up to date. Enjoy casual searching for places, or intense searching for your most optimal location to set up your own business. This product would be low cost on the Android and iPhone Store and could sell in any big box, and specialty, stores making it a high volume sales product.

The inventor, Tommy Hudson Jr. Lives in Mount Holly, North Carolina and had an idea for a better way to provide information for and to access said information in a database. Tommy contacted the Mars Rising Network and had a provisional and design patent application filed and had the invention designed properly so that he may see success with this great idea and turn it into a real product. He is actively seeking a company that would have an interest in licensing the product for a royalty.

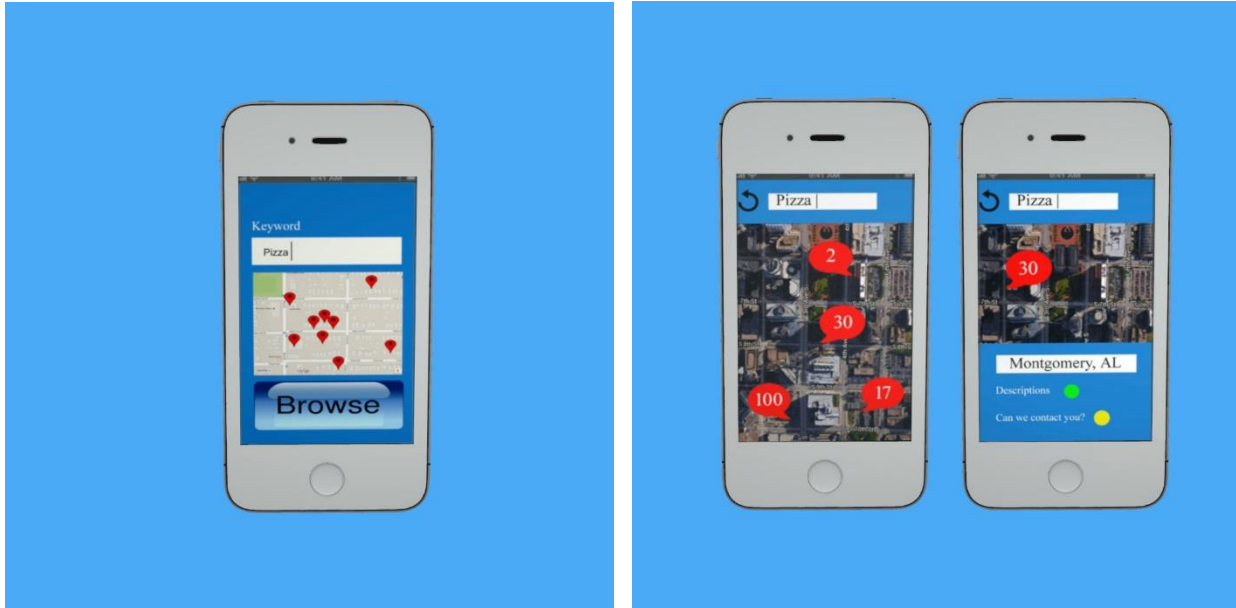

Patent Ability & Engineering

A provisional and design patent application has been filed as of July 2016. The Patent Search was performed by The Mars Rising Network and revealed nothing similar and that a granted patent could be obtained because of the unique design and functionality of the device as compared to other known devices.

The Market

The Domestic Market is very large to say the least. This product would sell in both the Android and iPhone stores in the USA and throughout the international market.

The retail price would be from $4.99 to $29.99 and the cost to manufacture would be from $999.00 to $4900.00. The costs are an estimate of course ranging from USA or overseas manufacturing and distribution.

If you have an interest in more information regarding the Need It Here Phone App and are a serious company that would be interested in a licensing agreement or distribution please contact me directly.

Sincerely;

Tommy Hudson Jr. / Inventor / Patent Holder
